MANAGER'S COMMENTS

Review

May was yet another poor month for local bourses with the famous "Sell in May and go away" adage holding true as foreign selling saw the benchmark index close lower for the month. As a result of the foreign sell down, the Ringgit weakened further against the USD and fell below the RM4/USD level to end the month at RM4.13 to the greenback. The FBMKLCI ended the month 47pts or 2.8% lower to close at 1,626pts while the broad based FBMEMAS and FBM Small cap index both outperformed the KLCI, down 2.1% M-o-M to 11,391pts and 1.0% M-o-M to 15,274pts respectively. Despite the weak markets, volume improved with average daily value traded on Bursa for the month of May rising 6% M-o-M to RM2.15bn.

Investment Outlook & Strategy

Our Tactical short term strategy remains unchanged, i.e. Over-Weighted in the small to mid-cap space in anticipation of rotational plays switching away from big-cap index linked stocks that has outperformed the general market over the past few months but have now started to give those gains back. Most of the negative factors undermining global markets currently have progressively dissipated. As such, we should objectively recognize that a potential follow-through market run-up in the next few months is possible in view of the liquidity driven factors and evolving market developments. Hence, our stance is to lock-in profits ahead once market gains momentum.

Any upside surprises in earnings improvement due to the low-base effect, better than expected economic numbers, further stabilization of the Ringgit and Crude Oil prices, a surprise interest rate cut to boost the economy, 1MDB risk of default resolved and positive global developments will augur well for the market. The window of market opportunity remains very fluid and narrow. As such, we prefer to focus on leading indicators such as market liquidity fund flows that will continue to precede over pure economic fundamentals in the short term.

Our long term investment strategy should reflect such conditions rather than allow our short-term sentiment and emotions to be over-ruled by the logical thought process. Hence, our focus will remain on long term outperformance at the expense of short term gains. As a result of this, reinvestment, rebalancing and/or switching activities will focus towards a combination of factors, such as: (a) specific small to mid-cap for growth outperformance, (b) selective big-cap index-linked stocks for indexation & dividend yield play, (c) good companies which are currently at the
