MANAGER'S COMMENTS

Review

April started off on a strong note for Malaysia as the KLCI rose to 7-month highs on the back of a stabilising ringgit and oil prices. Buoyant regional markets and the Invest Malaysia 2015 event also helped boost interest in the market. But all of the gains and more were surrendered towards the end of the month on the back of heavy profit taking. For the month, the KLCI eased 0.7% or 13pts to close at 1,818pts. The broader market outperformed the KLCI, with the FBM Emas edging lower 0.2% mom to 12,539pts. Small caps were mixed, with the FBM Small cap index gaining 1.4% to 16,522pts while the FBM ACE fell 1.9% mom to 6,988pts. Average daily value traded on Bursa in April eased 0.5% mom to RM2.11bn.

Investment Outlook & Strategy

Our mid-to-long term view remains intact but tactical short term equity asset allocation view continues to be skewed towards Neutral from an Overweight stance previously (Q1), as we continue to front-load portfolio performance (lock-in realised returns and/or relative performance) and prepare to capitalise on an expected temporary market pullback in the very near future. Rotational asset and regional play is inevitable. Focus on leading indicators of market liquidity fund flows over pure economic fundamentals (lagging catalyst) continues to be very crucial at current times of uncertainties. As such, a fluid and dynamic investment strategy on asset allocation and stock specific-centric are imperative.

On a medium to long term basis, however, we still believe that the market's fundamentals still offer opportunities as the overall global economic and capital market conditions/outlook now continue to improve albeit at a different beat and momentum. In addition, equity will still be a relatively better asset class to invest compared to fixed income on the back of flush liquidity and eventual rising rate environment. This is prevalent if compared to last 12-24 months ago as the central bankers / policy makers are better prepared with anti-recessionary / expansionary policies in place. Therefore, long term investment strategy should reflect such conditions rather than allow our short-term sentiments and emotions over-ruled the logical thought process.
